

Broadway: The Big Band Years

Saturday, April 2, 2016-7:30 PM

The Big Band Era is reborn during an evening of story and song.

Featuring hits from Gypsy, 42nd Street, Damn Yankees, Kiss Me Kate, Guys and Dolls, Annie Get Your Gun, West Side Story, and On The Town, BROADWAY: The Big Band Years is a thrilling musical adventure!

The Great White Way was a magnificent platform for a staggering number of hit songs during the Big Band Era. Popularized by stars of radio and television, these standards included: "The Lady is a Tramp," "My Funny Valentine," "Luck Be a Lady," "I Got Rhythm," and "I Get a Kick Out of You," and became part of the Great American Songbook. Join Musical Director and Conductor Keith Levenson and The Curtain Up Orchestra as they celebrate Broadway's best!

These songs are characterized by strong songwriting from legends like Cole Porter, Bobby Darin, and Richard Rogers, and the show will even include a mini-biography of some of the responsible songwriters.

Broadway music from this era has taken on a life of its own outside of New York. Recording and performing artists over the years along with movies, television commercials and shows have brought these songs into popular culture and have further-popularized the music of Broadway.

This energetic show features an on-stage 12-piece band featuring soloists with Broadway credits.
